

TRAVEL TO THE CITY

AIR TRANSPORTATION

There is only one airport in Hong Kong, which is the Hong Kong International Airport (HKIA). HKIA is one of the best and busiest airports in the world. There are over 100 airlines operating flights to 220 locations worldwide in HKIA. In 2016, the passenger throughput was almost 71million. HKIA locates 35minutes from PolyU and is connected by various means of public transports. The public transportation system in Hong Kong is well known for the convenience, efficiency, and punctuality.

GROUND TRANSPORTATION

Airport Express

The Airport Express takes passengers to Kowloon in just 20 minutes. Quick and comfortable, trains depart at about 10-15 minute intervals daily. For detailed schedule of the Airport Express, please click here.

Free shuttle bus service is available, taking you from Kowloon station to most major hotels in Tsim Sha Tsui and transport interchanges. You can also enjoy free porter service at all Airport Express stations. If you will stay in any of our recommended hotels, you may take K3 or K4. Please refer to here for the details.

Public Buses

Hong Kong International Airport is well served by public bus routes, taking you to and from most parts of Hong Kong. Comfortable and relatively inexpensive, they offer a convenient transport option.

If you will stay in any of our recommended hotels, you may take A20 or A21. The estimated journey time is 75 minutes. Please refer to here for the details.

Taxis

Taxis offer a fast and flexible way to and from Hong Kong International Airport (HKIA). Arriving passengers can pick up a taxi at the Taxi Station outside the Arrival Hall. Taxis in Hong Kong are color-coded according to their operating areas. You should take the Urban taxis (Red color), which serve all destinations throughout Hong Kong including the airport.

The taxi fare to the university is around HK$300, depending on the traffic conditions. It takes 35-40 minutes to the university.
